

USE OF SERVICE OR FACILITIES IN CONNECTION WITH BOOKMAKING

1. GENERAL

1.01 It is the policy of the New York Telephone Company not to furnish service or facilities for, or in connection with, bookmaking on animal races or other sporting events, including the dissemination of racing information for bookmaking. This section covers the procedures to be followed in reporting cases where there is reason to believe that telephone services or facilities are or may be used for bookmaking purposes.

1.02 This section applies to all service order work including new installations, additions to existing services, changes of location or transfer of service from one party to another, and also to repair or other station visits.

1.03 No comments of any kind shall be made to the customer in regard to the use of telephone services for bookmaking purposes or to the reporting of such use.

1.04 Reports shall be made verbally to the Crafttaman's immediate supervisor.

1.05 The Foreman shall review the information and determine if there is reasonable cause to believe that Telephone Company service may be used for bookmaking purposes. The following information shall be included in the report if known:

1. Facts and circumstances which led to the belief that the service may be used for bookmaking or aiding and abetting bookmaking.
2. The type and amount of equipment.

3. Service to the same premises furnished to others.

Refusals to give Company representatives access to premises.

5. Tampering with lines, unauthorized moves, etc.

6. Use of foreign attachments.

2. PROCEDURE — REPORTING CASES BY EMPLOYEES

2.01 If any employee suspects that telephone services or facilities will be or are being used for bookmaking purposes, the following shall be observed.

(a) Service Order Work: Complete the work authorized on the order. Report the circumstances to the Foreman but do this from a telephone outside of the subscriber's premises.

(b) Repair or Other Station Visits: Proceed with the assignment but report the circumstances to the Foreman as in (a) above.

2.02 The Foreman shall review the information and if he concludes there is reasonable cause to believe that Telephone Company service may be used for bookmaking purposes an immediate report shall be made through the lines of organization to the District head or equivalent, who will forward the information to the General Commercial Supervisor's office. (Long Island Territory-Commercial Results Supervisor in the office of the General Commercial Supervisor.)
